The Essence of the Human Being

For all Health Professionals

Friday 12th - Sunday 14th May 2017

The Glasshouse College, Wollaston Road

Stourbridge West Midlands DY8 4HF

For in the human being, where matter dies away into semblance and new matter arises, there lies the possibility of freedom, and there lies the possibility of love...

For only through the fact that in us the past dies away, becomes semblance, and the future is a new creation in the condition of a seed, does there arise in us the feeling of love, devotion to something to which we are not coerced by the past, and freedom, action that is not predetermined.

R. Steiner; 19th Dec 1920

We invite you to join us for a meeting to work together on our individual and shared objectives that form the basis of striving to promote health and help in illness. We will focus on the *Bridge Lectures by Rudolf Steiner which are concerned about the connection between body, soul and spirit. We expect that all participants will prepare by reading these lectures. Following contributions based on these lectures we plan small group work to digest this content. We thereby hope to enliven our work individually and together.

*The Bridge between Universal Spirituality and Physical Constitution of Man, GA 202, given on 17th – 19th December 1920; also contained in Course for Young Doctors.
